Dear Friends of Cobaw Ridge

It's been along time between Newsletters and drinks!

After the Covid closures we finally have a chance to celebrate the Macedon Ranges Wine and Food Festival "Budburst" again at the Cellar Door for 2022.

The season to date has been in a word, challenging! October saw the biggest rainfall totals we have ever experienced here in 40 years, and springs everywhere that we have not seen before. The disease control also challenged us but thanks to some improvising in spray units, we hopefully are set for a reasonable flowering and hence vintage... fingers crossed!

Wine

On the wine side we have received continued stella reviews so makes the hard work seem logical.

Current Releases

2021 Cobaw Ridge Chardonnay

"Well, here's a wild one. A flintier, perhaps more saline launching pad this year. Tighter and leaner. Fresh. It's unreal. Unnerving consistency.

Lemon zest, grapefruit juice, flint and sea spray. Scents and flavours high-fiving. It's so darn good to drink! Frisky and cool, licked at with alpine herbs and that saline minerally twang, but concentrated too, long, luxuriously so and gently palate staining despite its racier frame. And in that, still stacks of proper chardonnay flavour - razor sliced, just ripe stone fruits, green apple and its tart crunch, faint cashew nut savouriness, a lick of parmesan rind and all that glorious coolness through its epic, mouth-watering, lingering delight. Sheesh. This is outstanding."

2021 Cobaw Ridge il pinko

Syrah Rose

"Il Pinko is the wine built around the most interesting and distinct expressions of wine made from that vintage - a moving feast. This year we get a syrah rose, and while rose has featured in Il Pinko livery, I don't believe it was produced as this one, in both qvevri and old oak. * Alan has informed me this IS the methodology since 2016, albeit in 2021 Spanish clay vessels were introduced.

Tasted even at room temperature this is a delight. Succulent, layered with exotic spice and brambly, peppery green herbs, sashes of pomegranate juice and pickled cherries, a slip of hazelnut and something akin to the botanicals from alpine amaros. This is stunning; released in technicolour and 4D. Silky texture that fines perk from minerally acidity, a faint sheath of tannin, extraordinary length and a sense of the palate being saturated in all and sundry flavours and textures. In essence, world class rose. Don't drink to cold - or cold at all!"
